

Using Windows 10, when I open this PDF in Adobe Acrobat XI and copy this line & paste it into a text editor, it will nicely paste as one long line. But if I open the PDF in Foxit Reader 10 and copy the line, it will have line breaks. Would it be possible to fix this unexpected behavior?

Thanks!

Note that in a Form Field (editable), the text copies properly as one long line. The text can be selected using the “Select Text” tool – and also the “Hand” select tool (using Select All).

Also, in a Form Field (NOT-editable), the text copies properly as one long line. However the text can ONLY be selected (context menu >> Select All) – when the “Hand Select” Tool is activated. The “Select Text” tool does not work here.

This is my test:
This is the original comment
with multiple lines made with Shift+ENTER
BUT After resize/move the line shifts is gone!

This is my test:This is the original comment
with multiple lines made with Shift+ENTER
BUT After resize/move the line shifts is gone!